

CVU.com National Player of the Week

October 9: Samantha Bricio, USC

The Collegiate Volleyball Update (CVU.com) is pleased to announce that Southern California freshman Samantha Bricio has been selected as the CVU.com National Player of the Week for Oct. 1 through Oct. 7 came back two days later with 24 kills in USC's 3-1 victory over Arizona State. The outside hit .317 in that match, complementing it with 16 more digs.

A 6-2 outside hitter from Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, Bricio was an offensive force with career highs in a pair of Pac-12 victories for the then No. 5 Women of Troy.

On the weekend, Bricio averaged a stout 6.57 kills per set on .380 hitting to go along with 3.85 digs per set as she recorded her fourth and fifth double-doubles of the season.

The first match of the weekend saw the freshmen turn in the best attacking match of her young career, hammering 22 kills on .475 hitting in a sweep of Arizona. She also picked up a double-double, adding 11 digs.

For her efforts, Bricio not only earned Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Week honors, but also received her third Pac-12 Freshman of the Week nod. She is the first player to receive both of the conference weekly honors during the same week. Additionally, Bricio is the first USC player to earn the CVU.com weekly honor.

It didn't take long for that career-best to be replaced, though, as Bricio
